

Sukosol family releases LP to aid flood victims

At present Thailand is struggling with its worst flooding in 50 years. This catastrophic crisis has affected many people and businesses in numerous provinces, as well as many areas of Bangkok.

The Siam City Hotel and the Sukosol family, led by Kamala Sukosol, president of Siam Hotels & Resorts, are keen to do their part to help the relief effort. Accordingly, they have released a new compilation album entitled "L.O.V.E". All proceeds from its sale are being donated to the Thai Red Cross Flood Relief Fund. They urge all concerned citizens and foreign friends to purchase the album and show their support for Thailand.

The album includes recordings by the entire Sukosol family: Kamala Sukosol, Marisa Sukosol Nunbhakdi, Daranee Sukosol Clapp, Kamol 'Sukie' Sukosol Clapp, Krisada 'Noi' Sukosol Clapp and Natalia Sukosol Briones.

The album is now available from the Siam City Hotel's Bann Siam gift shop and numerous dining outlets. There is no set price; buyers are asked to donate whatever they wish for the worthy cause.
